

Public Policy Minor – Course Selection Overview (05/15/26 revision)

Course Type	Course Chosen	Term	Available Options
Prerequisite	P. _____	_____	One research methods course in quantitative or qualitative research methods. Options include, but may not be limited to, Public Policy 10, Government 10, Quantitative Social Science 15, Economics 10, Psychology 10, Geography 9.01 or 11, Sociology 10 or 11, Environmental Studies 10, Linguistics 10, etc. (Note: As a prerequisite, this can count toward another Major and/or Minor). (Note regarding Math 10 and/or AP Statistics: If Math 10 was taken and/or AP Statistics credit granted in any term up to and including Summer Term 2026, this can be counted toward the PBPL Minor prerequisite requirement. If taken/awarded after Summer Term 2026, Math 10/AP Statistics credit cannot be counted toward this requirement).
One (1) Policymaking Process Course	1. _____	_____	Public Policy 5
Two (2) Public Policymaking Methods Courses	2. _____ 3. _____	_____ _____	Policy methods courses include, but may not be limited to, Public Policy 40, Public Policy 40.01, Public Policy 40.03, Public Policy 41, Public Policy 42, Public Policy 43, Public Policy 44, Public Policy 45, Public Policy 46, Public Policy 47, Public Policy 48, Public Policy 49, Public Policy 82.08, Economics 20, Engineering 18. If you have questions about what might count, please reach out.
Two (2) Courses in a Public Policy Track	4. _____ 5. _____	_____ _____	Courses may be in Public Policy, or any other Department/Program, and must be midlevel or higher, public policy-focused, and aligned with the chosen policy track -- which can be an existing track, or a newly-proposed one. (PBPL 20-level and PBPL 50-level courses all apply to this group, as may others.) If you have questions about what might count, please reach out.
One (1) Seminar Level Course	6. _____	_____	Courses may be in Public Policy, or any other Department/Program, and must be seminar level, public policy-focused, and aligned with the chosen policy track -- which can be an existing track, or a newly-proposed one. Courses like Policy Research Shop (PRS) for Independent Study (PBPL91), and other similar courses, may count. If you have questions about what might count, please reach out.
Title of Minor Track	_____

Note: Except for the Prerequisite, courses taken for the PBPL Minor cannot count for another major(s) or minor(s).